

It is a wonderful inlet located in the north-east side of the island, comprised in the marine natural reserve, and so well preserved from aggressive tourism that could damages fish fauna and coral heads.