

Island located in the southern area of St Vincent, it owes its name to the fact that a Caribbean chief donated it to William Young, in exchange of a horse given to him by the English gentleman, who was the Governor.

Today there is a beautiful, exclusive resort and on land, there are many charming bars or restaurants with flowery terraces, from which it is possible to view spectacular panoramas.

The volcanic origin of the island of St. Vincent must be mentioned: even here, there are endless variety of corals, black sponges and tropical fishes of incredible colours.

Anchored to the buoy in front of the resort, the tender can go through the two rocks to allow tourists to do snorkelling in all tranquillity, before continuing their vacation on the rented catamaran towards the Grenadines
